"I wanted to see a change in Hancock County. It's time for new blood, and time to bring in new individuals..." Pullman.

Rocky Pullman 'unknown' of new supervisor's board

Editor's note: The four men and one woman who will take office as Supervisors of Hancock County next Jan. 2 are a diverse group of individuals.

Some have never held public office before, while others are sons of former supervisors or have had prior government experience. Four are Democrats and one is Republican.

We've dubbed them, "The Baby Boomers." Their median age is 40, the youngest is 32, and the oldest is 54. Most of them have deep roots in Hancock County and have families growing up here.

The decisions they make in the next four years will affect citizens, schools and businesses and set the tone of the county's progress for years to come.

As a service to its readers, the Echo will profile the new supervisors, the new clerk of Chancery Court and the Superintendent of Education-elect of the Hancock County School system in a series of articles beginning today.

BY ED LEPOMA

Those in the know in Hancock County political circles were calling Roderick (Rocky) Pullman, "the mystery man" in the race for Supervisor of District 2.

There were a few facts listed in his biographical sketch, in the circulars he passed out door-to-door and in the political ads he placed in area newspapers.

He was a Democrat, 41-years-old, and lived in Pearlington with his wife, the former Donna Sick of the Cedar Point area; a son, Roderick II, age seven, and two-year-old twins, Mallory and Melinda.

He worked as a tug captain for Johnson Controls World Systems, Inc., at the Stennis Space Center. He was a graduate of Hancock North Central High School.

In the August 8 Democratic primary, Pullman faced two challengers, Clinton "Sonny" Ladner, another employee with Johnson World Services, and Andrew "Tommy" Mitchell of Waveland.

Ladner, who had the advantage of a familiar name around these parts, led the primary vote, garnering 707 votes, but Pullman pulled 629 votes to force a runoff.

Supervisors set sewage hearings

BY ED LEPOMA

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has scheduled a public hearing for 11 a.m. Dec. 15 to take comments from citizens on plans to provide sewage service to residents of Pearlington, Lakeshore Drive and Clermont Harbor.

At its meeting Thursday, Board President Mike Ladner also welcomed all five of the newly elected county supervisors, who were in the boardroom. They will take office Jan.

2. Also present were Tim Kellar, the Chancery Court Clerk-elect and Terry Randolph, who will return as Superintendent of Hancock County schools.

Ladner offered the supervisors his cooperation during the transition period, and said he felt he was speaking on behalf of the board.

J.P. Compretta, representing Hancock County Wastewater District 1, also told the new supervisors-elect that he would be glad to brief them on plans to launch the $10 million program to link all residences south of I-10 to a sewage system.

The District plans to apply to the Farmer's Home Administration for a grant, and if surveys now underway produce supporting data that most of the residents in the area are in the low-income range -- as expected -- the FHA grant would cover 75 percent of the cost of construction. The rest would be made available to the Wastewater District in low-interest loans.

The public hearing is a requirement of the loan application. Previously, the District met with Pearlington residents last September to explain the program to them.

The project would essentially complete sewer line connections in the Shoreline Park area. About 1,100 homes would be linked up along Lakeshore Drive and Clermont Harbor and another 800 in Pearlington and Bell Isle subdivision, Compretta said.

Under the program, homeowners would have to have their existing septic tanks filled in, and bear the cost of running the line from their homes to the district's pumping station down the street.

Each residence would be required to tie-in to the system and would be provided with a

Fleuriet to comply with ordinance

BY RICHARD MEEK

Although Waveland Jay Fleuriet is charging discrimination, he said it is likely he will comply with the city's new water ordinance that he helped to vote in April 15.

However, he vowed "to go to bat" for any citizen contesting the law, which requires a separate water meter for each residence. Fleuriet owns rental property at 209 Davis St. that is not in compliance with the new law. The property houses one house, and a small apartment behind the house.

The law requires the house and apartment be on separate meters. Fleuriet was sent a letter July 11, almost two months after the ordinance went into effect May 19, by Public Works Director Steve Landry to comply with the law.

Fleuriet, who is petitioning the state attorney general's office to review the ordinance, did not complete the appropriate repairs. He sent a letter to Landry Nov. 8 saying he was "representing your customer (at 209 Davis St.) as his alderman."

Essentially, Fleuriet was representing himself, and wrote to Landry that an official opinion was pending.

On Thursday, on the recommendation of the Attorney General's office, the city hand-delivered Fleuriet a letter stating that he has five days to comply with the ordinance, and failure to do so would result in prosecution.

"(Fleuriet) is not in compliance," city attorney Ronnie Artigues Jr. said. "He must be treated like any other citizen. If not, he must be prosecuted."

Fleuriet charged "discrimination" by city officials because "I'm not a yes man."

"It's a political agenda," he added. "I don't know who's behind it but I am the only Republican on the board."

Fleuriet is the only GOP alderman but mayor John Mason is also a Republican, although Fleuriet referred to the mayor as a "liberal Republican."

Suspicious accident investigated

BY ED LEPOMA

Hancock County Sheriff's Department investigators are still trying to piece together details after a man was found unconscious along the service road of Highway 90 late Wednesday.

Officials at Gulfport Memorial Hospital reported Friday that Zean McDowell, age 27, of Augusta, Kan., remained in critical condition in the Intensive Care Unit.

Sheriff's Department investigator Matt Karl said they were waiting to speak with McDowell, "because right now, we're not sure what happened."

At first, police suspected McDowell might have been a hit-and-run victim. A motorist called medical response personnel after spotting McDowell's body on the side of the road a couple of miles west of Waveland around 11 p.m. Wednesday.

McDowell was first brought to Hancock County Medical Center, then transferred to Gulfport Memorial.

Karl said an investigation has established that McDowell was not driving a vehicle, and apparently was walking to his father's home in the Evergreen Trailer Park.

Witnesses said McDowell had stopped in several neighborhood bars along the highway, Hall said.

Doll and Toy Fund prepares for Santa

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

The Hancock County Doll & Toy Fund is now preparing toys for deserving youngsters at Christmas.

The program is under the guidance of Bay St. Louis Fire Chiefs Brian Adam and Gary Maurice with assistance from Tammy Garber, department secretary. Chief Adam and Chief Maurice are replacing Fire Chief Andrew Lizana, who retired this year.

This year parents are asked to sign up at the Bay St. Louis Fire Station 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Mondays through Fridays until Dec. 10, Chief Adam said. The fire station is located at the corner of Old Spanish Trail and Bookter Streets in Bay St. Louis.

The Doll & Toy Fund provides toys for deserving youngsters from birth to age 13 and special children.

Last year the Doll & Toy Fund served over 1,000 deserving youngsters throughout Hancock County.

The Hancock County Doll & Toy Fund is an agency of the United Way of South Mississippi and also receives support from Bay St. Louis, local merchants, industry, civic organizations and individuals.

"Some give cash and others toys," Adam said.

Toys are purchased for the fund at special prices from local merchants.

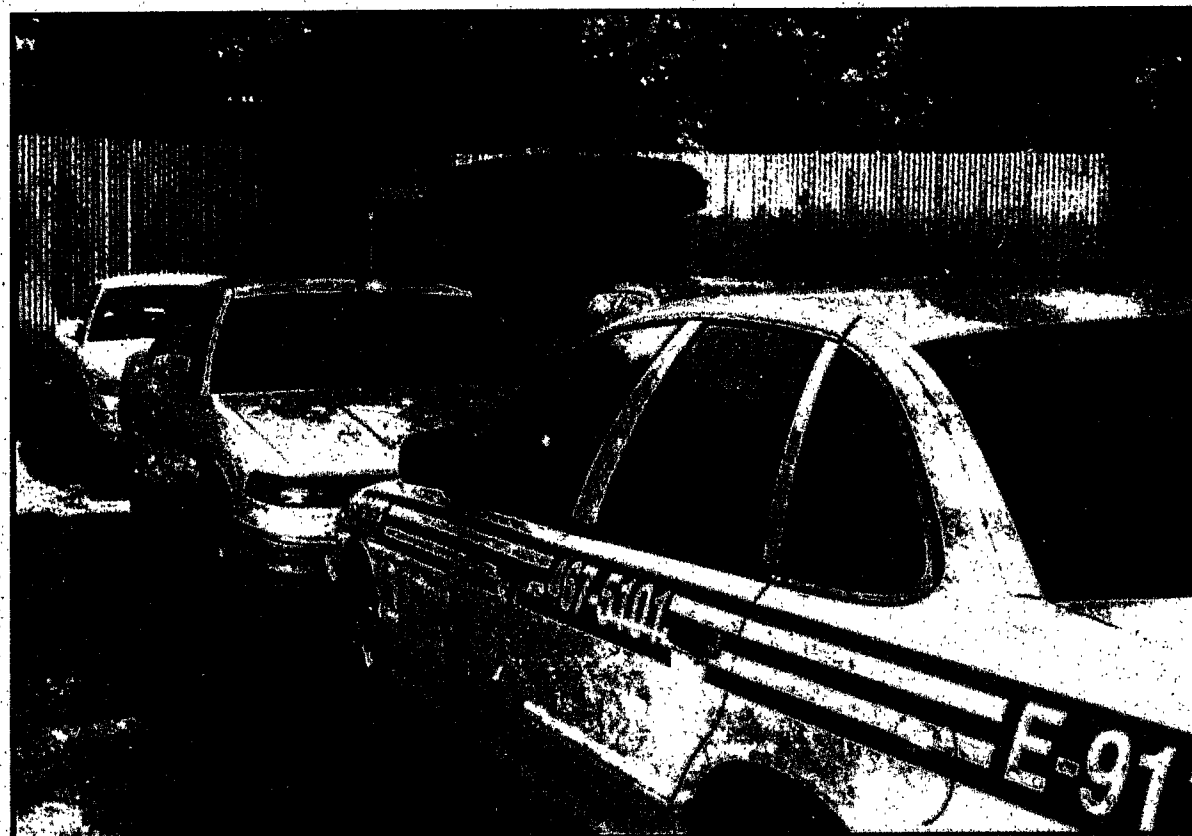

Several of the local merchants also collect toys for the Doll and Toy fund.

Selection of toys for the youngsters will be according to age, Chief Maurice said.

Toys will be available to parents with registered children near Christmas at the Bay Fire Station.

Firefighters have also volunteered to deliver toys to parents

Dr. Hugh Banks Barnes, 71, of Petal, died Monday, Nov. 13, 1995, in Hattiesburg.

Card of Thanks

I want to express my deep gratitude to all the fire personnel, Sheriff's Department and Gulf Coast Security for all the help that they gave during the fire Sunday night in Diamondhead.

I have never seen a more organized operation this big where everybody did what they were supposed to do without any major drawbacks.

The fire personnel came on the scene and went to where they were asked to go, and when they arrived at the spot they went right to work to do the job they have spent many hours training for.

The Hancock County Sheriff's Department came in and set up and kept the traffic out of the area so the fire people could do their job. They did a fantastic job.

I would also like to thank Gulf Coast Security personnel at the scene who helped the sheriff's department with traffic and crowd control and also kept an eye on the surrounding buildings to prevent fires by flying embers.

I have been involved with a lot of incidents of major proportions in the county, and after seeing the efforts of all involved in this situation I was very proud of our emergency response and all the people involved and would like to extend my appreciation to all those involved.

After doing my investigation with the help of the state Fire Marshal's office and INS insurance investigators, we found no evidence of arson. We have ruled it accidental, but are still looking at some things we did find to determine what caused the fire. We hope to be able to determine it in a few days.

Sincerely yours,
 Richard Pate

Swiss Scientists Discover New Energy Product

Lugano, Switzerland—After 25 years of research Lightning 828 was developed with the help of Swiss Laboratories. After extensive testing with amazing results, Lightning 828 is now available in the United States. Scientists are amazed at Lightning 828's results on improved memory, attitude and athletic performance.

In a double blind cross-over trial on university students in Italy, Lightning 828 was given twice daily for 12 weeks. The results were astonishing. Students obtained higher scores in math, logic and physical education.

This new discovery has been a windfall for working and active people that seem to run short of energy around mid-afternoon and need a little extra lift. Lightning 828 when taken in the morning gives a sustained, balanced form of energy throughout the day.

During an interview in Chicago, a beautician stated, "I used to go home exhausted after being on my feet all day. Now it's just incredible. I go home with extra energy and really enjoy my family more."

Lightning 828 is a necessary boost for students, professionals and senior citizens.

Lightning 828 is now available at most Kmart Pharmacies including:

HNCE well problems solved for now

BY TRACI BONNEY

The Hancock County school district has taken measures to remedy a leakage problem with the water well at Hancock North Central Elementary School, according to a report given at the November 6 school board meeting.

Board trustee Tony Caston said a stand pipe has been installed in the well. The pump uses this pipe to draw water from the well into the holding tank without disturbing the sand in the bottom of the well.

The well, which is some 30 years old, has been leaking sand into the lines, according to Zoe Bretzius, the district's consultant on water issues. The board had considered hiring an engineering firm to survey the problem and recommend a solution, but instead decided to wait and do some more research.

In the meantime, the stand pipe has been put into the well. The water flows into it from the top, instead of being drawn up from the bottom. This leaves the sand in the bottom of the well, where it does no harm and in fact helps purify the water, according to assistant superintendent Eddie Danzey.

Another problem the district has rectified was with the check valve, which is supposed to prevent water from flowing backward through the lines into the well. Danzey said the valve's flap was worn, and was allowing water to leak back into the well.

This was stirring up the sand, which was causing it to get into the water lines, specifically the ones leading to the new media center.

Danzey said, "We weren't getting sand in the kitchen equipment and other areas, but we were seeing it in the lines to the media center. Those lines had been tapped into the bottom of the holding tank instead of the top, which was why the sand was getting into them."

While the situation has not reached a crucial stage, Danzey said, it could become a major problem if the sand gets into the pump, which is submerged.

He explained that the school district has been able to keep the sand problem in check by shutting off the lines and flushing out the water system once a month. He also said the school board will be discussing additional measures, such as filters, at their next meeting, Tuesday at 4:30 p.m.

"We would like to get into a water district sometime in the near future," Danzey stated. "There are several districts either formed or forming up that way — Kiln, Catahoula and one in the Crane Creek area. We would be glad to join any one of them."

SSC Center open

The Visitor's Center at Stennis Space Center has remained open, and is not affected by the current government shutdown. The hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mon. through Fri., except Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter.

Magic property in spotlight

BY TRACI BONNEY

Casino Magic's property south of Hwy. 90 was in the spotlight at last week's Bay St. Louis City Council meeting.

In his report, city attorney John Scaife reminded the councilmen that the validity of the property's zoning class came up at a previous meeting.

Scaife said, "The property in question was originally zoned R-3 in 1965. It was rezoned B-2, the forerunner of our current C-3 zone, in 1972 at the request of New South Corp. This was all done before Pete Fountain owned the property, and the documentation I've found shows it was all done properly."

Councilman Jim Thrifflay asked Scaife if he had been able to find any documentation on a moratorium passed by the council against construction on the beach front in the area in question, but Scaife said he could find no such documentation.

He explained that an ordinance passed in August of 1972 banned beachside construction for most of the beach front, except the downtown commercial area. A month later, the property now owned by Casino Magic was rezoned as a commercial property.

Scaife added that a zoning ordinance passed in 1986, Ordinance #298, delineated permitted uses in R-5 zones, including beach front property. That ordinance would have effectively ended any moratorium questions, he said.

At the same time, since the property in question was C-3 in 1986, Scaife said, the moratorium and succeeding Ordinance #298 would not have applied to it.

"If the ordinance allows certain activities in commercial zones, then those uses should be permitted on that property," he stated.

Casino Magic President Dual Cooper said the company has no immediate plans for the beach front property.

"We're not planning anything at this time," he stated. "We have some possible plans for future use of the site, but nothing we're ready to release to the public."

"I'm sure that at some time we will use the property; it's a beautiful piece of land with a lot of potential."

Business to help Pantry

Helping Hands, reaching out to help the Hancock County Food Pantry, are coming from Home Plate Collectables, Watertown Plaza, Highway 90, Waveland and comic book distributors.

Aileen Sauzer, Food Pantry president said, "Al Tackett, owner of Home Plate Collectables, has obtained 600 new comic books from Capital City Distributor Inc., Heroes World, and Diamond Comic Distributors Inc., to be used to help a worthy cause."

"Each child will receive a comic book for donating two cans of non-perishable food to the Hancock County Food Pantry at Home Plate Collectables," Sauzer said.

Sauzer reports activity has increased at the food pantry as there seems to be more families in need in recent weeks.

Youth will be tried as adult

Guy Copous Jr. of Bay St. Louis, a 13-year-old youth accused of threatening a teacher at Bay High School, will be tried as an adult.

Officials said they will present Copous' case to the grand jury, perhaps as early as January. He is accused of holding a knife to the throat of eighth grade teacher Keith Greenwood on Oct. 25.

Copous allegedly threatened Greenwood before two students stepped in and stopped him. Those students, Robert McMillan and Fred Doll, were honored by the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School Board Monday night during its meeting.

Copous fled immediately after the incident but turned himself in later that day. He is being held in the Hancock County jail.

"CUEVAS' QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Many eyes are turned to Washington because of the "shutdown" of many governmental agencies.

The thing that bothers me most is that no matter how the issue between the two parties is settled, you and I will pay the bill for the disagreement.

Many of the agencies shut down bring in revenue, and these are not now being collected. Those on leave in all probability will be paid, according to most reports.

Our country's financial situation for sure appears not to be improving because of the disagreements between the leaders of our nation's two parties.

Party lines should be forgotten and a working agreement be reached before our nation goes further in debt. Most of us will be awaiting the outcome.

Local merchants are in the process of getting things together for the big annual Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Big Red Ribbon Christmas festivities.

Special purchases have been made by merchants to offer a wide variety of Christmas gifts for customers.

It is always good idea to begin your Christmas shopping early. I know there are several folks who have already completed their Christmas shopping. Hats off to those few.

Remember your local merchants when you Christmas shop, as it always pays to shop-At-Home.

In our next issue, many of the merchants will be telling you about the items they have to offer.

The annual Christmas parade is scheduled at 10 a.m., Sat., Dec. 2.

Famous restaurant

The White Kitchen on Highway 90 in the Louisiana Marsh was a landmark and popular place to take a break and eat between New Orleans and the Mississippi Gulf Coast. LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Reader responds to Meek's comments on game cancellation

Dear Editor:

I feel compelled to respond to Richard Meek's criticism of Dr. Michael Ryan's decision to forfeit the Bay High-St. Stanislaus game. Mr. Meek sounds like a sulky child whose football was taken away because his teacher decided the game was getting too rough.

In the first place, Mr. Meek seems to have the mistaken notion that a football game is first and foremost a community event. It is not. It is first and foremost an extracurricular activity involving two schools. The community may enjoy and support that activity, but it "belongs" to the schools, not the community at large.

Dr. Ryan forfeited a football game; he did not cancel Mardi Gras. The community was not "sent to the corner," the students were. If the community is so involved in inter-school activities that it feels "punished" as well, that's the community's problem, not the school's.

But more ominously, Mr. Meek obviously takes the attitude that "boys will be boys" and dismisses the behavior that prompted Dr. Ryan's decision as a "prank."

OK, the part involving the greased pig was funny. No one was hurt, not even the pig. In that part of the day's events, no permanent or costly damage was done. That qualified as a prank.

But isn't vandalism still considered a crime? If a teenager is caught breaking windows and spray painting public property, can't he be sent to jail? Does Mr. Meek think that this kind of behavior is somehow justified when connected to a football game? Tell that to the kids hauled into juvenile court for spray painting graffiti or breaking windows any other day of the year.

I have lived in cities where games had to be canceled because once-friendly rivalries escalated into riots and shootings. Dr. Ryan may have been confident that the crowd could be controlled, but I am not so certain.

Maybe, as Mr. Meek blithely assumes, there would have been no trouble and everyone from the two schools would have marched happily off arm in arm to chuckle at the day's events together, like the happy ending of a sappy sitcom.

But if the escalation of "pranks" continues, how long will it be before something really shocking happens? I applaud Dr. Ryan for saying, "enough is enough" and drawing that "line in the sand." The line must be drawn somewhere.

Mr. Meek puts that Dr. Ryan has appointed himself the "moral police" of the community. A community that condones criminal behavior in the name of good wholesome fun sounds like it could use a little policing.

It takes a great deal of courage to take a stand for one's principles in the face of public opposition. I am glad that there is at least one person in this community willing to put his ideals into action. Mr. Meek, grow up.

Sincerely,
Lori F. Fabian
Bay St. Louis

Reader disagrees with Meek's column

Dear Editor:

In response to the "between the lines" article of Thursday, Nov. 9, and as a member of this community, I commend Dr. Michael Ryan for the courageous decision he and St. Stanislaus High School made concerning choosing not to play the football game between SSC and Bay High School.

Mr. Meek, in my opinion, was ill informed and judgmental about the facts of this situation. And, how dare he question the intent and the integrity of Dr. Ryan, a well-respected and admired educator, community leader, gentleman and family man.

Here are the facts. We know that key personnel at Bay High also did not want to play the game that Friday evening. However, it was Dr. Ryan who had the courage to make a decision in the best interest of the students involved.

Secondly, these were not, as you put it, small acts of vandalism. Check with the officials. Braggings rights are worth no amount of damage to another school's property or especially personnel. Please raise your standards.

Dr. Ryan did not assume the role of moral police. He made an important administrative decision, which must have taken much thought and courage.

It was a decision which even his counterpart, Mr. Tisdale, publicly applauded in a previously written article in the Echo which was penned by you. Evidently both men agreed that this step was the right one, but Dr. Ryan had the courage to see it through.

Also, this "game" between Bay High School and SSC is not a community-sponsored event, which you alluded to.

It is a school function which community members attend, but which the two schools initiate, schedule and play. And it is only that — a game.

The first basketball game of the season between Bay High and St. Stanislaus was played in the SSC gym last Wednesday evening without incident. We are still, and will always be, a friendly rivalry.

In addition, you cannot compare high school sports programs with those of Ole Miss, LSU and Michigan. Think for a moment about the educational and developmental differences between those two age groups.

You speculate that the game "probably" would have been played without incident. How do you or anyone else know that? And what if it had been played without incident? Would you have been willing to take responsibility for that? You seem quite judgmental, Mr. Meek.

I can tell you, as many parents of students at both schools and community citizens and leaders do, that Dr. Michael Ryan was not shortsighted.

He was insightful, well informed, cautious and professional in the decision he made.

If this and other communities in our nation had more educators and role models like Dr. Ryan, our children would be guided to recognize that their actions do have consequences.

They have consequences for themselves, and they impact the lives and plans of many more than just themselves. That is the real lesson here.

Thank you, Dr. Ryan and St. Stanislaus for your leadership in our community.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth Schafer

Humane Society pushes spay-neuter program

Dear Editor:

The Hancock County Humane Society recently received updated figures from the Animal Protection Institute in Sacramento, Calif. relative to the benefits of an active spay-neuter program in a community.

As the literature read, "start with one female dog — in the first year she produces an average of four puppies, two of which are females. In the second year, production of first and second generation females is 12 puppies, six of them females."

The pamphlet outlines the reproduction cycle to the seventh year. "Total from a single female in seven years — 4,372 puppies."

Sad and startling numbers such as these are what drives all humane societies to emphasize spay-neuter, and the Hancock County Humane Society is no exception.

Since cats reproduce 30 to 40 times that of humans (dogs are 15 times), we strongly recommend that they too be sterilized.

Our society was founded in 1973. From the very beginning we preached pet sterilization.

We are proud and happy to report that after studying these latest figures and scanning our records as to how we have helped, we find that we have saved thousands of animals from suffering the tortures of homelessness and all of its horrors.

Nothing hurts as much as being unwanted, neglected and finally — the ultimate.

The society's spay-neuter program must continue, and the volunteers work hard and long in that direction. We are, therefore, pleased to announce to the public that we have enlarged our flea market on Hwy. 90 and Drinkwater Road.

We are now able to accept furniture and large items. We ask that anyone having articles to donate, please call either the flea market at 467-7686 or 467-0841 for pickup. We would be so grateful.

We invite everyone to pay us a visit at our store. Our merchandise is much better presented since we have more room.

Also bear in mind, every dollar you spend (and $1 buys a lot as we have lovely things to offer at reasonable prices) means you are contributing toward alleviating the pain of unwanted animals.

Our kind friends have been so generous to us these past years. We now ask for a little more. We must help to ease the overcrowding at the shelter.

No one likes to think of the killing of healthy, loving animals, but according to our friends at the Animals Protection Institute, "of the 32 million animals born every year, 10 to 13 million will be destroyed for lack of homes. Many more will become feral by the time they are three years old." Horrible, isn't it? Spay-neuter is the only way.

Anyone wishing to know more about the figures mentioned above, call 467-5765. We will be delighted to furnish details.

Thank you.

Sincerely,
Hancock County

IN CONGRESS

By Rep. Gene Taylor

Taylor supports unborn bill

Pro-life advocates have made significant gains in the struggle to protect America's unborn. Most recently, the House of Representatives overwhelmingly passed a bill that bans late term abortions.

As a conservative Democrat and pro-life supporter, I voted for H.R. 1833, the Partial Birth Abortion Ban Act. I was also a co-sponsor of this bill, which bans specific late-term abortions. The measure passed the House 288-139, and is now being considered by the Senate.

In September, I stood strong against abortion advocates by voting against the FY 1996 Defense Appropriation Conference Bill, which would have allowed abortions to be performed in military hospitals.

It is my hope that this bill will be brought back with language that is pro-life because I supported other aspects of the Defense Appropriation bill.

I have been working closely with Democrats John Murtha and Ike Skelton and Republicans Bob Livingston, Bob Dornan and Henry Hyde to remove the pro-abortion language from the bill. These people are personally pro-life and were in a position to make the changes needed in the bill. It is my sincere hope that they will do so now.

I have consistently opposed federal funding for abortions. I feel that abortions should be permitted only in cases of rape, incest or to save the life of the mother. Even in those instances federal funds should not be made available.

One of my first actions as a congressman was a pro-life vote against a bill that would have made federal Medicaid funds available for abortions. I will continue to maintain that position.

Additionally, I have voted against giving U.S. funds to the United Nations Population Fund and the International Planned Parenthood Federation because they support abortion policies in other countries.

Rocks soar high above Hawks in 101-62 rout

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

In a game that some may say got out of hand, the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws hit for the century mark for the first time in recent years as they defeated Hancock, 101-62.

It was a game that saw a Hancock player ejected, technical fouls on both sides, and a Hancock fan that came out of the bleachers and onto the court to confront the referees. However, the fan was not ejected.

Both SSC and Hancock players did their job and someone else's as well as they took control and settled everything down.

The Hawks attempted to run with the Rocks and play the physical type of game that the Rocks thrive on; however, HHS could not hit the shots to stay in the game and committed the costly fouls that widened the gap even more.

HHS coach Dennis Peterson stated, "This was a heated game due to the rivalry between the two schools. The refs called the game tight early but then it got out of control."

"We did not shoot well and SSC did. We pressed when we got down and committed the costly fouls," he added. "We hustled and our kids will continue to hustle all year. Jason Jones is a tremendous ball handler and he made some shots outside for us which is what we need him to do. Kimmy Ladner stepped up and had a tremendous game for us."

SSC has handed the Hawks both of their losses this season. Last week the Rocks nipped the Hawks 62-50 in the Hancock County journey. This game was the division opener for both schools. With the win, the Rocks improve their record to 5-0 overall, 1-0 in District 4-A. The Hawks fell to 3-2, 0-1 in the district.

The Rocks jumped out to a 34-15 lead in the first period behind the scoring punch of Matt Kopfler, who ended the game with 25 points. Kopfler continued his domination in the second period as SSC increased its lead to 55-33 by halftime. Kopfler had 17 points at halftime, Terry Lawyer 16.

Jerod Breaux, a key starter for the Hawks, fouled out at the 2:43 mark of the third period. The Rocks went ahead and capitalized on the Hawks' misfortunes as they built their lead in the third period to 74-51.

In the fourth period, the Rocks had their reserves in as they outscored the Hawks 27-11. Derek Bradley put the Rocks over the century mark at 1:07 mark of the fourth period with two foul shots.

SSC coach Jay Ladner commented, "We play an up tempo type of game and Hancock tried to play that with us. We feel comfortable playing that type of ball so it is to our advantage when the other team tries to do that."

"I don't think the game got out of hand," he said. "It is a rival game and one can expect some heated and intense games especially when both teams like to play physical and hard-nosed."

Ladner added, "We took what they gave us. They tried to stop Terry which opened up Matt Kopfler and he showed what he is capable of. I thought we had an outstanding offensive effort but we were lacking tremendously on defense. We had no intensity."

Lawyer led the Rocks with 26 points and 10 rebounds while Kopfler had 25 points. Kelton Thompson had 13 points, eight assists, and three steals. Maurice Singleton scored 11 points, dished out 10 assists, and grabbed seven rebounds.

Kopfler, a junior, said, "They were letting me play behind them. They got into some foul trouble which hurt them. I played well on offense but I need to step up my intensity on defense and remember to play team ball."

Beau Reeves led the Hawks with 13 points. Kimmy Ladner had 12 points hitting three 3-pointers. Jones and Breaux each had 10 points in the loss.

In junior varsity action, the Rocks defeated the Hawks 60-51. Monore Hazeur had 17 points while Derek Bradley scored 11 points and collected 10 rebounds. Jimmy Smith had an all-around game for the Rocks scoring seven points, six rebounds, four assists, and four steals. Emile Maddox led the Hawks with 16 points.

The Rocks will play in the Mississippi Coast Coliseum on Tuesday, November 28 against perennial Class-5A powerhouse Gulfport.

Ordinance

The alderman added, "It's a case of big government telling the little people what to do. This is an unfair regulation on people."

"(The house) was plumed like that 40 years ago. I think it's unfair."

Fleuriet admitted the ordinance is "good" and would bring "revenue to the city," but added he was under the impression the ordinance included a grandfather clause.

"(Not having a grandfather clause) doesn't make common sense," Fleuriet said. "If I had known there was no clause, I would not have voted for it."

Fleuriet said for "appearance" because "I am an alderman," he would likely meet the city's mandate to install the separate meter, at a cost of what he said was "$2,000."

"Money is not the problem," he said. "I just don't want to let government bully me around."

"But the next guy (who contests the ordinance), I will go to bat for. I will fight for him."

Fleuriet claims he is the only one in the city who was sent a letter. However, city officials said several other citizens were sent similar letters, and they either have complied or contacted Landry requesting more time.

Fleuriet said he has not ruled out pursuing the matter in court. In an unusual twist, Artigues said it is conceivable Fleuriet would then become both the plaintiff and defendant in the same lawsuit. In essence, Fleuriet would be suing himself.

"I know of no authorization (for such a case) in either Mis-issippi law or federal law," Artigues said. "I don't know if you can sue yourself."

"A person who approved an ordinance has no standing to challenge when (the ordinance) adversely applies to him," Artigues said. "(Fleuriet) is challenging an ordinance he approved."

Financial Focus

Evaluating magazine ratings of mutual funds

Most of the larger financial magazines publish annual issues ranking mutual funds. These yearly reviews have become popular with readers as well as advertisers. But how useful is the information?

Bob Fischer, a certified financial planner, recently tried to answer this question. He conducted a study for Registered Representative magazine that examined how valuable magazine ratings are as predictors of future performance.

The four magazines selected for the study were Money, Forbes, Kiplinger's and Business Week. The results were eye-opening—and perhaps surprising to many people who invest based on magazine advice.

Fischer tested the magazines against their own information, analyzing whether higher-rated funds went on to outperform lower-rated funds. He randomly selected 25 growth-and-income funds from each magazine's 1992 annual review and examined these funds' performance for the following year.

"We wanted to know if one magazine's fund rating system was more useful than another's in predicting future performance," Fischer said.

The study found that the fund group rated lowest by Forbes in 1992 actually performed best in 1993, while the fund group with the highest rating did worst.

Business Week's and Money's ratings also proved to be "unreliable indicators" of future performance. Although Kiplinger's did better than the others at predicting future performance, its ratings were "still completely insignificant."

Some have criticized the study for focusing only on growth and income funds and for using too small of a sample. However, the study's purpose was to evaluate the validity of the ratings as they are actually used by individual investors, to select the best-performing funds.

In comparison, Fischer also evaluated Value Line, an objective advisory service that ranks stocks based on timelines. Since 1965, the stocks ranked by Value Line have performed exactly as the service predicted, with the highest-ranked group outperforming the second-highest-ranked group, and so on.

The moral of the story is not only to take the time to do your homework before you invest, but also to be sure to rely on professional sources of research.

Johnson Controls receives award

Johnson Controls World Service Facility Operations and Support Services (FOSS) Project at NASA's John C. Stennis Space Center was presented the Mississippi Quality Award 'Excellence Award' Oct. 6 by Mississippi Lt. Gov. Eddie Briggs.

The Excellence Award was presented to Johnson Controls for successful implementation of the Quality Management Systems and Total Quality Management process.

It signifies an advanced level of participation for organizations that have demonstrated, through their commitment and practice of quality principles, significant progress in building sound and notable processes.

Johnson Controls received the Excellence Award as a result of the FOSS Project's self-nomination and a subsequent visit to the project by a team of Mississippi Quality Award examiners.

"By focusing not only upon results but also upon the conditions and processes that lead to results, this criteria offers a framework that can be used by organizations to tailor their systems and processes toward ever-improving quality performance," said Johnson Controls Keith Humphries, FOSS Project general manager at Stennis.

The Mississippi Quality Award was established as a service to Mississippi businesses and institutions that wish to share in the value and achievements associated with the application of continuous improvement principles to better serve their customers.

The Johnson Controls FOSS Project employs more than 450 personnel and has provided operations and maintenance along with institutional and support services to the Stennis Space Center installation since 1978.

Hancock Holding declares dividend

Leo W. Seal Jr., president and CEO of Hancock Holding Company, announced the board of directors has declared the fourth quarter cash dividend of $0.25 per share.

The dividend is payable Dec. 15, 1995, to shareholders of record as of Dec. 5, 1995. Hancock Holding Company or its predecessor has paid a regular cash dividend since 1937.

Hancock Holding Company, headquartered in Gulfport, is the parent company of Hancock Bank in Gulfport, Hancock Bank of Louisiana in Baton Rouge, and First National Bank of Denham Springs, La.

Through its banks in Mississippi and Louisiana, the company operates 74 offices and 99 automated teller machines. Bank-related affiliates include Hancock Mortgage Corporation, Hancock Insurance Agency and Harrison Finance Company.

Hancock Holding Company's common stock is listed on the NASDAQ National Market System under the symbol HBHC and in the NASDAQ newspaper quotations under the abbreviation HanchH.

ERA adds Spain to list of international affiliates

Electronic Realty Associates, LP (ERA REal Estate) has signed Spain's largest real estate franchise network, Look and Find SA to the international ERA system.

With the addition of Spain, ERA master franchises have been sold in five European countries. Master franchise holders have the right to sell ERA franchises and provide exclusive products, services and technologies in their respective countries.

The international ERA system, based in Overland Park, Kan., includes over 2,500 member broker offices in 19 countries and territories.

"Real Estate is becoming a universal language," said Herb Dubuisson, president with ERA Bayshore Realty in Waveland. "Whether our clients are moving across the street or to another country, we can provide them with the same services worldwide."

Through the Look and Find affiliation, ERA plans to introduce a full spectrum of real estate products, services and technologies available for the first time in Spain, including new marketing tools a home warranty program, a department that will handle sales of properties owned by banks and lending institutions, and real estate agency development programs.

"We're excited about the prospects of revolutionizing the Spanish real estate industry," said Bill Heavener, director of European operations for ERA. "Spain is an emerging market rebounding from a recession. The country has one of the highest percentages of home ownership per capita in Europe. Home sales will begin to prosper as consumer confidence grows."

Founded in 1988, the Madrid-based Look and Find has developed an information system that allows clients to view pictures and descriptions of homes for sale before visiting a property.

grinder pump and tank that would send the raw sewage to a new treatment facility that would be constructed.

The monthly cost of the service has been estimated at $35, and some supervisors have worried about the hardship the cost might place on the elderly and poor in the area.

However, the area has been under federal and state mandates for years to correct the potentially health-endangering situation.

Some of the homes and trailers in the area to be annexed are using septic tanks, which health officials say are doomed to failure because the soil can't accommodate the wastewater. But, some raw sewage is running untreated into ditches, bayous and canals, posing a real health hazard.

Throughout their proceedings last week, supervisors took into account the fact that they will no longer make decisions affecting the county after Jan. 2, but they put in motion preliminary steps required of some projects they had initiated.

Board

In the Aug. 29 Democratic runoff, Pullman defeated Ladner by a margin of 804 to 760. He won the right to face two candidates in the Nov. 7 general election: independent candidate Thomas J. McArthur of Pearlinton and Ronald E. Cuevas, also of Pearlinton, who had served on the board of supervisors representing District 2 from 1987 to 1992 and was running as a Republican.

Pullman was at the Hancock County Courthouse the night of Nov. 7 when the votes from the general election were being tallied, but only a few could actually point him out in the crowd.

The next day, the official tabulation showed Pullman had dispatched his two challengers authoritatively. The final vote was 1280 for Pullman, 819 for Cuevas, and 173 for McArthur.

A new political career had begun, and Pullman said he is anxious to get to work, not just for the citizens of his district, but "for the overall good of the county."

Pullman attended the board of supervisors meeting last week, along with the other supervisors-elect and consented to an interview with the Echo.

What made him decide to run?

"I wanted to see a change in Hancock County. It's time for new blood, and time to bring in new individuals," said Pullman.

How did he win? "It was old-fashioned politicking," he said. "I went door-to-door, throughout the district, sometimes visiting everybody twice in the first two races." His job at Johnson Controls kept him from stumping as hard in the general election, he said.

Pullman's District 2 includes Pearlinton, part of the Bayou Phillips Community, the communities of Flat Top, Catahoula and Leetown, but he said the county shares the same problems with his district.

"We've got to improve law enforcement countywide, but especially in the rural communities," said Pullman. He is especially worried about the proliferation of drugs in his district.

Pullman also listened intently as supervisors scheduled a public hearing Dec. 15 on plans to tie Pearlinton residents into a sewerage system.

"Some hidden factors need to be looked at," he said. Pullman said the Wastewater District has informed residents that the monthly hookup charge would average $35, "but I'm worried about the other costs," he said.

Pullman said he has been told that the grinder that will be installed at the front of residences to send the raw sewage to the treatment plant may also raise electric bills.

"We will want to take a look at that, especially as to how it will affect the elderly, he said."

Another top priority for Pullman is, "to bring new business into Hancock County." He said he planned to work closely with other supervisors and Port and Harbor officials to bring more industry into Port Bienville and attract new business at Stennis International Airport.

His other priorities are shared by fellow supervisors: He wants to improve county roadways, and drainage, keep the ditches clean, and "promote education for our young children."

Pullman said he also hopes to work closely with the cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland to improve inner city services and areas.

"This will be an entirely new board," said Pullman. "We need to learn to work together as a team, as a unit, for the overall good of this county."

"I'm looking forward to it."

Supervisors agreed to call for public bids on renovations to a building it has purchased on Hwy. 603 and 43 that would be new administrative offices for the county school board.

Supervisors have already spent $85,000 for about one acre of land and the one-story brick building that was once a general store.

They set aside another $40,000 for renovations, but architect Michael Reeves said it would take at least $120,000 to bring it up to code and put in the office space required.

District 2 Supervisor Dolph Kellar balked at the projected costs, and was joined by District 1 Supervisor Robert Peterson. Both seemed surprised by the estimated cost of renovation.

District 5 Supervisor-elect Philip Moran suggested that the project be put out to public bid, "so at least in January's we'll have something to look at." The new board will have the option to accept or reject any bids.

Randolph, the new superintendent-elect of the school board, did not comment, but Kellar suggested that he get together with Reeves to familiarize himself with the project.

Supervisors also voted to advertise for bids on two comfort stations the county plans to build on beachfronts in Bay St. Louis and Waveland. The county has set aside $100,000 for construction, and public bids will be opened in January.

They also voted to advertise for 90 days details of a weight load limit ordinance that has been adopted by Harrison County.

Peterson had asked for some kind of legislation, charging trucks carrying logs and other heavy loads "are tearing up the county's streets."

THANK YOU!

To all who voted in the Nov. General Election AND to all those I had the opportunity to meet during my campaign for the Office of Circuit Clerk.

Having no previous involvement in politics, I learned many things during my experience. One of the most important was that the citizens of Hancock County are the most cordial to be found and that many of them have a keen interest in our county. This is what made my campaign experience a rewarding one. It was a true pleasure to meet you all.

Hancock Medical Center volunteers honored

The Hancock Medical Center Auxiliary honored volunteers recently for more than 7,000 hours of service during the last year. Formerly known as "Pink Ladies", the volunteers now include a male who has contributed more than 300 hours.

At the annual awards luncheon at Waveland Resort Inn, HMC administrator Don Henderson emphasized the importance of the roles the volunteers play in the day-to-day operation of the medical facility.

Currently, Auxiliary members staff the information desks in the front and outpatient lobbies, perform clerical tasks, take blood pressure, help with admissions and in many other areas.

Seven or eight volunteers work exclusively with one department, such as surgery, cardiopulmonary, medical records and social work. Some 48 active auxiliary members meet the daily needs of the hospital. In addition, the auxiliary has 12 associate members.

The opening of the outpatient lobby in April necessitated double scheduling of volunteers, said Auxiliary President Clarice Gustin. The increased work load resulted in the scheduling of an additional 1,038 hours, according to volunteer chairman Theresa Bourgeois.

Eighteen ladies responded to a call for additional volunteers. All completed extensive orientation sessions and are now active members for 1995.

They include: Mildred Davis, Evelyn Day, LaRose Eddy, Jerri Guidroz, Patricia Haynes, Lorraine Heffron, Sally Lindsley, Michelle Linn, Lillian Lott, Marjorie Schultz, Terry Settle, Jo Shannon, Maealys Swartzendruber, Diane Toliver, Doris Wilson, Muriel Zinc, Tina Latino and Violet Reuther.

Early in 1996 the Auxiliary will open a gift shop, which is currently under construction in the front lobby of the hospital.

Receiving recognition at the luncheon were the following:

50 Hours Patch - Mildred Davis, Evelyn Day, LaRose Eddy, Mary Gilmore, Jerri Guidroz, Patricia Haines and Muriel Zinc

100 Hours Pin - Mildred Davis, Evelyn Day, Mary Gilmore, Lillian Lott and Muriel Zinc

300 Hours Pin - Randolph Bourgeois and Dot Van Norman

500 Hours Pin - Clarice Gustin, Billie Jean Niver and Alice Seckso

700 Hours Pin - Beulah Benigno, Gertrude Helwig and Harriet Reightler

1,000 Hours Pin - Bea Lorenzen

1,250 Hours Pin - Beverly Mahe and Dot Zimmerman

1,500 Hours Pin - Dorothy Bielstein, Shirley Clemons and Evelyn Perré

1,750 Hours Pin - Billie Tudury

2,000 Hours Pin - Dottie Corales and Betty Kielty

2,250 Hours Pin - Edna Kleinpeter

2,500 Hours Pin - Phil Lagasse

3,500 Hours Pin - Theresa Bourgeois

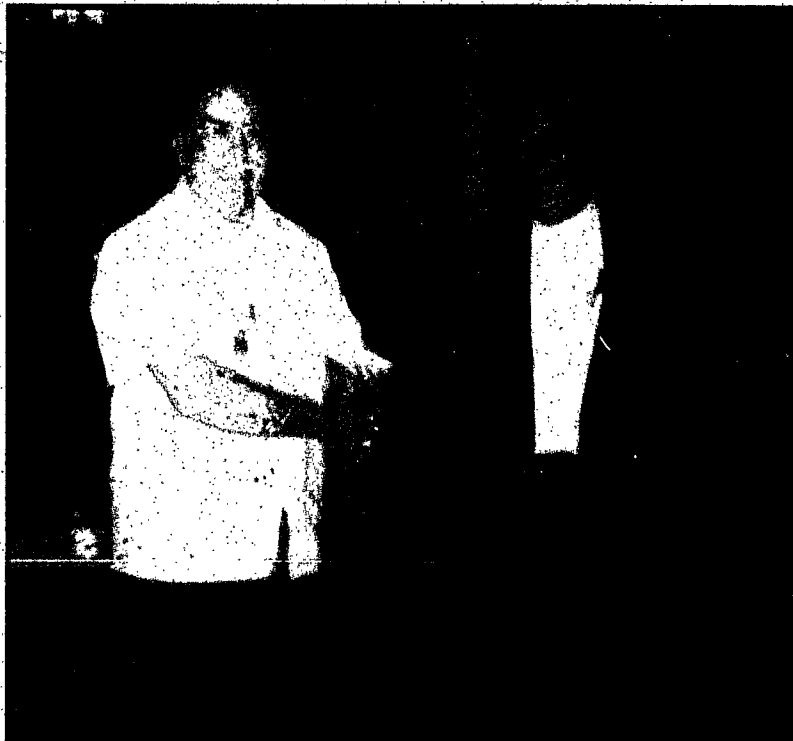

Since 1986, when the HMC Auxiliary officially began recording service hours, more than 52,076 hours have been donated by residents. Anyone wishing to volunteer, or for more information on the program, call Bourgeois at 467-7792 or contact the Auxiliary desk at the hospital at 467-8746.

PAIN PAIN GO AWAY

Is your daily forecast always cloudy due to chronic pain? Many people know what it is to be under the weather due to constant suffering...so many in fact that a new medical specialty has evolved. Algology, recently recognized by the American Medical Association, is the study of pain and pain management. The Pain Management Center at NorthShore Regional Medical Center features algologists who are aggressive and creative when it comes to treating pain.

Some of the more common conditions treated are pain due to: back injury, neck and facial discomfort, cancer pain, headaches, phantom limb/stump pain, reflex sympathetic dystrophy, and shingles. If you've constantly weathered the pain, you've probably sought relief from a long list of possibilities. It's time to try something new with the algologists at The Pain Management Center at NorthShore Regional.

Instead of pain, your future outlook might be clear and sunny. For more information, call 641-MDMD or 800-749-MDMD.

Holiday In The Park at Six Flags

Magnificent music is around every corner at Six Flags Over Texas' 11th annual Holiday In The Park.

Two new holiday musicals have been added to the host of festivities that are offered. More operating days have been added, too, including Thanksgiving Day.

"The Majesty Of Christmas" is the world premiere of a new musical work written and orchestrated by David T. Clydesdale, the top writer, arranger and orchestrator of Christian music today. A winner of Dove, Grammy and Angel awards, Clydesdale has written and produced for many of the top names in Christian music, including Sandi Patti and Larnelle Harris.

"The Majesty of Christmas" is a jubilant musical pageant which recounts the inspirational story of the birth of Christ. Joyous melodies reverberate as a cast of 31 performers participates in telling the story.

The celebration concludes with a rendition of the Hallelujah Chorus accompanied by a dazzling display of pyrotechnics.

"The Majesty of Christmas" was conceived and created by Mark Brymer and Mike Meece, the director of The Promise. It is being published by Word Publishing, the largest publisher of Christian materials.

There is one performance each night at 8 in the 1-800-COLLECT Music Mill Amphitheater. A limited engagement, the show runs through Dec. 23.

Also new for 1995 is "One Reindeer-Full Night," a heartwarming musical which tells the story of a group of children who have been caught in the biggest blizzard known to hit Texas.

They make their way through the snow and find shelter at the home of none other than Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer. Because of the blizzard, Santa Claus must solicit the help of Rudolph and his "nose so bright" to help him guide his sleigh that night. Along the way, Santa drops the children by their houses just in time for Christmas.

Holiday In The Park begins Nov. 18 and will be open Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays through Dec. 17 when daily operation begins. The park is also open for the Thanksgiving Holidays on Nov. 22 and on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 23.

Holiday In The Park will be open from 2-10 p.m. on all of these days, except on Thanksgiving when the park opens at 5 p.m. and closes 10 p.m.

Holiday In The Park is closed on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, but will reopen on Dec. 26 and operate daily through Jan. 1. After Christmas, Holiday In The Park will be open noon-8 p.m.

Special reduced ticket prices are offered during Holiday In The Park. Regular admission is $17.95 and $9.95 for children under 48 inches tall and senior citizens age 55 and over. Children age two and under are admitted free.

Venture through 11 themes areas of Texas' past and present at Six Flags Over Texas.

Six Flags Theme Parks Inc. is the No. 2 theme park company in the U.S. and the nation's largest regional theme park company, hosting over 21 million visitors a year.

HOROSCOPES

November 19-25

ARIES - March 21/April 20

A surprise visit from an old friend or family member brightens the week. If your personal affairs don't seem to be in order, it may be time to do a pre-winter overhaul. Cleanup and organize, and you'll be happy for it later on. Single? If so, a new romance may be closer than you think.

TAURUS - April 21/May 21

A favor you did for someone a while back will be repaid in a very imaginative way. The deadline of an important project may be postponed. Use the extra time to fine-tune and put on any finishing touches. A little extra effort will go a very long way. Children play a role this weekend.

GEMINI - May 22/June 21

An ongoing "cold war" with a family member may come to a head this week. Best to speak your true feelings and control your emotional side if you want to salvage the relationship. Let your natural diplomacy be your guide. A good time for clothes shopping.

CANCER - June 22/July 22

You may have to pick up the slack for a busier-than-usual partner. Lend a helping hand. It will surely go a long way. You'll see a different side of someone you thought you knew really well. This will intrigue you and concern you at the same time. Is anyone really predictable?

LEO - July 23/August 23

Romance will be the highlight of this week. Single? If so, this could be the time to meet that "dream mate." You don't even have to look far. (s)he is likely to find you. You'll probably find that you have many admirers this week, as your sexual magnetism is at a peak. Enjoy!

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22

If you're the boss at work, it's time you learned how to delegate. As a Virgo, you probably subscribe to the theory, "If you want something done right, you have to do it yourself." But you have to give others the chance to prove themselves, too. It's really not so hard.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23

Early in the week, your partner will come to your aid when things get too busy. This will lighten the load and relieve the tension. A romantic weekend is in store, especially for married Librans. A weekend getaway is likely to give you the quality time you've been craving. Finances are looking better than expected.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22

It's time to purchase that luxury item you've been wanting. You could even find a once-in-a-lifetime bargain. An upcoming trip may need more planning than you had anticipated. It's time to pick up the phone and make some careful arrangements. Check all details.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21

A busy week could put a dark cloud over social plans. Roll up your sleeves and get to work. There will be plenty of time for fun later on. Advice from a friend may come with good intentions but should be taken with a grain of salt. Only you know what's best for you.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20

A troubled love relationship may need extra attention this week. Be honest with yourself — and your mate. If you are unhappy, it's best to do something about it now. Delaying action will only prolong the agony. Things like this don't just work themselves out in the end.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18

A disappointment is countered by a stroke of luck later in the week. You'll realize that you have to take the good with the bad. A media event will hit home in some way. It will put you in a contemplative mood. In matters of love, a compromise may be necessary.

PISCES - Feb 19/March 20

Use your creative talents to impress higher ups at work. A little extra thought and inventiveness on your part is sure to impress. In matters of love, don't take your partner for granted. Know a good thing when you have it, or it could be lost. The mail brings an unexpected bill.

YOUR BIRTHDAY THIS WEEK

The next 12 months:
The focus for the beginning part of the year will be on more mundane, day-to-day happenings than anything really exciting. But it won't last forever. Come spring, there will be a lot of interesting and memorable times in your life. If you are looking for love, it is sure to blossom around the same time as the flowers. One note of caution: be honest with any new love interest. Even little white lies could be detrimental later on. Travel — perhaps to an exotic locale — is likely for the coming summer. With a little planning and some shopping around you may find your dream vacation at an even dreamier price!

TRAVEL & ENTERTAINMENT

Biloxi hosts 'Christmas on the Water'

Biloxi's colorful "Christmas on the Water" celebration will mark its 10th anniversary this year, with its largest parade of decorated boats and a huge children's parade through the downtown area.

The three-day celebration, which is planned for Dec. 1-3, features dozens of colorfully decorated vessels, which parade along the waterfront with the nighttime sky as a backdrop. A fireworks show climaxes the parade.

Organizer Rusty David, who conceived the idea in 1985, expects about 85 boats to take part in the parade this year.

"Being the 10th anniversary, we're expecting a great turnout," said David, who himself owns a charter boat.

"Last year we had 75 boats participate and people have already been talking about getting into it this year."

Traditionally, hundreds of spectators line the beachfront in Biloxi to view the floating procession.

The celebration, which is funded by donations from businesses in Biloxi with support from the city of Biloxi, actually kicks off Friday evening, with a children's parade through downtown Biloxi.

"Last year, we had about 300 children ride in the parade," David said, "and we're expecting about 500 kids this year because all the ones who rode last year had a great time and went home and told everyone about it."

The parade features the colorquard and drum corps from Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi, Mercy Cross and Biloxi High School bands, a host of fire trucks and Santa Claus riding atop a horse and buggy.

On Sunday, the ethnic Christmas trees at Tullis-Toledano Manor will be lit. Three representing the many cultures that have settled in Biloxi are part of this colorful display at this historic home near Biloxi's Casino Row.

SWEATSHIRTS PENDANTS

Coast residents have a new way to get in the Christmas spirit and show civic pride: sweatshirts and pendants commemorating the 10th anniversary of Biloxi's Christmas on the Water celebration are now on sale.

The pendants and bright red sweatshirts, which are emblazoned with the Christmas on the Water logo, are $15 each.

They are available at the George E. Ohr Arts and Cultural Center, the Maritime and Seafood Industry Museum, the Biloxi Visitors Center, the Biloxi Parks & Recreation Department, and McElroy's Harbor House Restaurant.

The three-day celebration includes a children's parade through downtown Biloxi on Friday, Dec. 1, the boat parade on Saturday, Dec. 2, and the lighting of the ethnic Christmas trees at Tullis-Toledano Manor on Sunday, Dec. 3.

Christmas on the Water is funded primarily by donations from leading Biloxi businesses and civic leaders, with support from the city of Biloxi.

Mississippi Symphony Orchestra features Crossland, 'Messiah'

The Mississippi Symphony Chamber Orchestra announces the third concert in the Connoisseur Series, scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 28. The orchestra, conducted by Coleman Pearce, music director/principal conductor, will perform at 8 p.m. in the Academic Complex Recital Hall at Millsaps College.

The concert will feature Patrick Crossland, trombonist. Works to be performed include Battalia by Heinrich Biber, Sonatina by Kazimierz Serocki, Missa brevis in C, K. 258 ("Spaur-Messe") by Mozart, and Chamber Symphony by John Adams.

Crossland is a junior at the University of Southern Mississippi, pursuing a bachelor's degree in music performance. He began playing the trombone at age 10 in the public school system of Lafayette, La. He studied privately with Dr. Robert Schmalz, trombone professor at the University of Southwestern Louisiana, during his junior high school and high school years.

Crossland participated in the Louisiana All-State Bands during all four years of high school. In 1992, he was a member of the National Band Association National Honor Band under the direction of Frederick Fennell as well as the EuroDisney All-American Band.

In the fall of 1992, Crossland enrolled at USM, at which time he began study with Dr. Marta Hofacre. He has also had opportunities to study with John Kizman, principal trombonist of the Dallas Symphony Orchestra; John Marcellus, trombone professor at the Eastman School of Music; Vern Kagarice, trombone professor at the University of North Texas; Tom Ashworth, trombone professor at the University of Minnesota; and Buddy Baker, trombone professor at the University of North Colorado.

Crossland has attended summer music programs, such as the Keystone Brass Institute, the Chautauqua Institute and the Skidmore Jazz Institute.

Currently Crossland performs with the USM orchestra, wind ensemble, jazz band and the sacbut consort, as well as doing freelance work throughout the region.

Tickets are $12 for adults and $6 for students and senior citizens and will be available at the door.

Season tickets are still available. They may be purchased through the symphony offices, located in the Arts Center, 201 East Pascagoula Street, or by calling 1-800-898-5050.

"MESSIAH"

The Mississippi Symphony Orchestra and The Mississippi Chorus will present Georg Friedrich Handel's Messiah at 8 p.m. Friday, Dec. 1.

The concert, conducted by Coleman Pearce, music director and principal conductor, will be held in the Thalia Mara (Jackson Municipal) Auditorium and will feature four Mississippians as soloists.

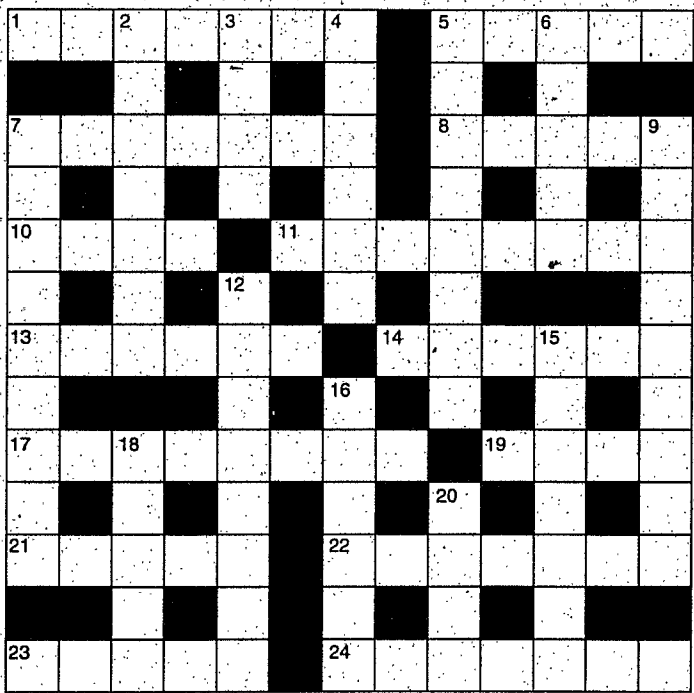

The concert, performed by the Mississippi Symphony Orchestra and the 129-member Mississippi Chorus, will feature selected portions from Handel's Messiah. Soloists will be Mark Walter, bass, of Cleveland; Ross Price, tenor, of Union; Chan Thompson, soprano, of Jackson; and Connie Kossen, alto, of Jackson. The Mississippi Chorus is directed by Martin Bittick.

The chorus is a non-profit organization of singers from around the Jackson metro area, whose purpose is the promotion of the musical arts through the medium of choral music, as well as to increase the general appreciation of all the arts through greater community involvement.

The chorus is a non-denominational choir open to anyone. Organized in 1989, the chorus has performed major choral works by 18th, 19th and 20th century composers.

Individual or season tickets are still available through the symphony offices, 201 East Pascagoula Street. Tickets for the Messiah are $14, $16 and $22 for adults, $12, $14 and $18 for students and senior citizens. Group discounts of 15 percent are also available for groups of 20 or more.

For reservations or information on this concert or other programs of the Mississippi Symphony Orchestra, call 1-800-898-5050.

Don't give up . . .

Step-relationships take extra effort

By Dr. Ann Jarratt
4-H Youth Development
Cooperative Extension Service

"My new stepmother acts like she's my mother and has a say-so in my personal business. My dad and real mom have a right to tell me what to do (even if I don't like it), but she does not. She has lost what respect I tried to give her. How can I get her to mind her own business and let my real parents deal with me?"

You didn't say whether you're living with your mom or with your dad, and that could make a difference in how you would deal with this situation.

One thing wouldn't change regardless of where you live — you need to talk with your dad about your concerns. I'm sure he wants you to be as happy as you can be, and I'm equally sure he wants you and his wife to get along. If he doesn't know how you feel, he doesn't have a chance to make it better.

When you talk with him, be specific about what concerns you. Let him know you want things to get better and you're willing to do your part. If you're not willing to make some adjustments, the situation is not likely to improve. The only person's behavior you can change is your own.

Consider that what you do — particularly if you live with your dad — affects her and can be seen as her business. Anything a family member does affects everyone else in the family. When anyone in a family hurts, the family as a whole feels the pain.

If you live with your mom and you're only with your stepmother a few hours a week, treat her with respect and don't be overly concerned about her comments or advice about how to run your life.

If she sincerely wants to establish a relationship with you, maybe she'll keep her advice to a minimum. Of course, when you're in her home, you have to abide by those house rules even if they're different from those in your home.

While you and your stepmother are learning to relate to each other, try to find one thing you like about her every time you're together. Don't keep up with what you dislike. Assume that she loves your dad and wants him to be happy and she realizes that when you're unhappy, your dad feels that, too.

Blending new families together is stressful to each person involved. Each person has to go the extra mile to make it work. The bottom line in this situation is the same as in other human relationships — you have to treat each person the way you want to be treated by them. Each person has to take responsibility for demonstrating respect and caring first.

If you have any questions concerning your teenage years, write Dr. Ann Jarratt, 4-H youth development specialist, Box 9641, Mississippi State, MS 39762.
